Calls for Papers

Journal of Biomolecular Screening (JBS) and Journal of Laboratory Automation (JALA)

CHICAGO –The Journal of Biomolecular Screening (JBS) and the Journal of Laboratory Automation (JALA) currently are accepting proposals (abstracts) for original, high-quality, research and review papers in four categories:

Cancer Metabolism

JBS manuscript proposals due April 1, 2016

Guest Editors: Raymond Gilmour, PhD, of Eli Lilly and Company (USA); and Susana Velasco-Miguel, PhD, of CNIO (Spain)

Micro- and Nanotechnologies for Quantitative Biology and Medicine

JALA manuscript proposals due April 1, 2016

Guest Editor: Somin Eunice Lee, PhD, of University of Michigan

3D Cell Culture, Drug Screening and Optimization#

JBS manuscript proposals due June 1, 2016

Guest Editors: Richard Eglén, PhD of Corning Life Sciences and Jean-Louis Klein, PhD of GlaxoSmithKline

Personalized and Precision Medicine

JALA manuscript proposals due June 1, 2016

Guest Editors: Dean Ho, PhD, and Ali Zarrinpar, MD, PhD, of University of California, Los Angeles

Quantitative Imaging in Life Sciences and Biomedical Research

JALA manuscript proposals due April 1, 2017

Guest Editors: Anand D. Jeyasekharan, MRCP (UK), PhD, of National University of Singapore; and Jonathan E. Cechetto, PhD, of PerkinElmer

JALA and JBS are the official journals of SLAS. They are internationally recognized, MEDLINE-indexed journals, now in their 21st year of publication. Together, they address the full spectrum of issues that enable scientific research teams to gain insights, increase productivity, elevate data quality, reduce lab process cycle times and enable experimentation that otherwise would be impossible.

JALA and JBS Calls for Papers

Specifically, JALA explores ways in which scientists adapt advancements in technology for scientific exploration and experimentation. In direct relation to this, JBS reports how scientists develop and utilize novel technologies and/or approaches to provide and characterize chemical and biological tools to understand and treat human disease.

For more detailed information about these calls for papers and the Journal of Biomolecular Screening (JBS) and the Journal of Laboratory Automation (JALA), visit www.slas.org/jala-jbs.

SLAS (Society for Laboratory Automation and Screening) is an international community of more than 20,000 individual scientists, engineers, researchers, technologists and others from academic, government and commercial laboratories. The SLAS mission is to be the preeminent global organization providing forums for education and information exchange and to encourage the study of, and improve the practice of life sciences discovery and technology. For more information, visit www.SLAS.org.
